

Alex Smith

Alex, a 20-year old college student who is in his 3rd year of Electrical Engineering at York University. He has had an incredibly busy midterm season with over 5 midterms. He had been locked in his room studying for all the midterms to make sure he passes all his classes so he can grow one step closer to graduating.

Midterm season is the worst for him since he has to balance studying with all the active assignments, labs, projects, labs, club meetings, and lectures. Now he is done with his midterms, a heavy weight has been lifted off his back. He deeply needs to destress and debrief and his favorite method for doing so is by watching anime.

He has been hearing about this hit anime named One Piece and has always been wanting to give it a shot but is afraid of its length. The anime boasts an intimidating 1000+ episodes with each episode spanning around 20 minutes in length.

As mentioned before, he is an extremely busy engineering student who is juggling numerous things in his life. Due to this he has developed a slight ego of always finishing what he started, this mentality has reached his movies and shows as well. He knows that once he starts One Piece he will HAVE to finish it or else he will be extremely upset at himself.

He wishes there was some way to check a quick review about the anime without having to read too much or watch a whole lengthy video on whether the anime is for him or not. Furthermore, he wishes there was a site where it showed alternatives to the show so if he decides to call it off, he might be redirected to something similar.

John Frank

John Frank is an avid fan of the Jurassic Park/World franchise and has been following it since he was a kid. With the new anticipated addition to the franchise, Jurassic World: Rebirth, he is almost bursting with excitement.

Although he is hearing that the upcoming movie will not be as the fans expect and will be a huge upset to the series. He is not happy with these comments and upon finding out that the movie will be around 2.5 hours in length, it makes him more stressed as this is relatively longer than most movies nowadays.

He is currently deciding whether or not he should attend the movies or try investing that time into something a little more productive.

He wishes there was an app where he can check all the ratings of all the movies in the franchise in one place and compare them to see if the movie's projected plot is really worth witnessing or not.

John is a busy man and wants a quick review of the new movie along with comparisons to the other members of the series in one place.

Charles Fortley

Charles is a Fan of the hit anime series Naruto. He is quite frankly stuck on the series and refuses to try out new shows since he believes no other series will ever be as good as Naruto. Recently there is talk of a new series by the name Jujutsu Kaisen.

Many compare the two animes and draw multiple similarities. Charles' friends come to him and inform him of the new series and tell him that he will love this new show.

Skeptical at first, Charles goes on online sources but there is no official site that promptly informs him of similar series based on other user experiences so he is not too sure as to whether they are telling the truth or not. He does not want to watch something that builds his hopes just to crush them.

He wishes there was a site that allows him to view the show ratings and compare it with other hit titles. Once he sees that it really is similar or better than his favorite series, he will definitely give it a shot. Right now it is a test to see if he should continue watching Naruto or try giving this new title a chance.
